

AT PHOENIX JOB CORPS STUDENTS CAN

LIVE

LEARN

TRAIN

CAREERS BEGIN HERE

INSIDE THIS ISSUE

- Phoenix Job Corps Center Hosts Community Relations Council (CRC) meeting
- Community Partners Join Phoenix Job Corps CRC Meeting
- Cement Mason Students Showcase Skills In Concrete Step Pour
- Adams Family Fables

CENTER SPOTLIGHT

PHOENIX JOB CORPS CENTER HOSTS COMMUNITY RELATIONS COUNCIL (CRC) MEETING

The Phoenix Job Corps Center recently hosted its Community Relations Council (CRC) meeting, bringing together community partners, employers, and local leaders to explore new opportunities for collaboration.

Together, we discussed ways to support our students through education, career training, and workforce readiness. Attendees shared valuable insights into current workforce needs and community initiatives, highlighting opportunities to expand mentorship programs, hands-on training, and career pathways for Job Corps students.

To make the event even more meaningful, we invited one student from each trade to join us. Each student delivered a brief speech about their trade and their personal experience at Job Corps. Their stories offered a powerful firsthand perspective on how Job Corps training is preparing them for successful careers and bright futures.

By uniting a diverse group of collaborators and giving students a voice at the table, the CRC continues to strengthen the support network that empowers our students to thrive academically, professionally, and personally. We sincerely appreciate everyone who participated and look forward to building even stronger partnerships in the future.

CENTER SPOTLIGHT

PHOENIX JOB CORPS CENTER HOSTS COMMUNITY RELATIONS COUNCIL (CRC) MEETING

CENTER SPOTLIGHT

COMMUNITY PARTNERS JOIN PHOENIX JOB CORPS CRC MEETING

Phoenix Job Corps Center was pleased to welcome community partners to our recent Community Relations Council (CRC) Meeting. We appreciate their time, participation, and continued commitment to supporting our students and strengthening opportunities within our community.

Angel German, Navy Recruiter – U.S. Navy
Annmarie Cohen, Relationship Manager / Vice President – BMO Bank
Dave Couts, General Manager – Covenant Aviation Security, LLC
Jan Rollon, Community Action Officer – Phoenix Police Department
Jesus Espino, Community Action Officer – Phoenix Police Department
Julie Pickerill, Chief of Licensing – Arizona Registrar of Contractors
LaShan Corry, Branch Manager – BMO Bank
Olivia Hendricks, Program Manager – Phoenix Indian Center, Inc.
Robert Barlow, FIBCO Family Services, Inc.
Joseph Welch, Superintendent – Enclos Corp
David Garcia - IUPAT District Council 36, Local Union 86
Roberto Camacho – IUPAT District Council 36, Local Union 86
Juan Medina, Training Coordinator – Finishing Trades Institute of Arizona, IUPAT District Council 36

Thank you to all our community partners for your continued partnership and support of Phoenix Job Corps Center and our students.

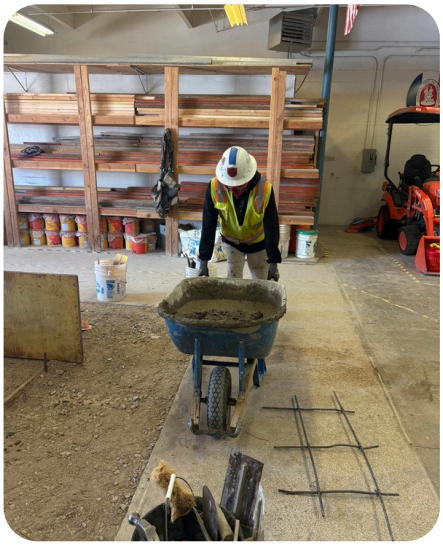

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

CEMENT MASON STUDENTS SHOWCASE SKILLS IN CONCRETE STEP POUR

Our Cement Mason Trade Instructor, Manny Vega, makes sure our students receive plenty of hands-on training and real-world experience. During a recent project, students worked on pouring and finishing concrete steps while practicing the proper use of hand tools to create smooth edges and a clean broom finish. Throughout the project, Manny guided students on proper techniques and safety procedures while giving them the opportunity to learn by doing. These hands-on projects help students build confidence, strengthen their craftsmanship, and develop the teamwork and skills they will need in the construction industry.

Adams Family Fables

Service Focused, Outcome Driven.

September 25, 2026

#Showcasing Success

Revving up with Roto-Rooter

Grafton HBI PlumbinggraduateSamuelHargrove isrolling along with Roto-Rooter, having recently purchasedhis own Roto-Rooter van. While in Job Corps, Samuel was already identifying plumbing issues such as the clogged drain in the HBI Plumbing building, which he correct re-piped. He interned at Roto-Rooter as a drain technician, quickly leading to full-time employment. Since then, Samuel has worked toward his future goals of leading his own team and his own company. Great work, Grafton!

Union Pride

Sacramento HBI students were on theirhome turf, as the BCT and HVAC students visited the Local 447trainingfacility. They enjoyed some hands-on training from union professionals and absorbed information about union benefits and how to apply. These visits are an important step to future apprenticeships and other union positions. Sensational trip, Sacramento!

Cleaning Up at the College

Glenmont Facilities Maintenancestudentsaresweepinginto help the maintenance department at Albany SageCollege. StudentsAonyaihLewis-Fish and Amarion Stevens visited the campus to observe live maintenance workand tour the maintenance shop. Albany Sage College has several active openings duetoits upcoming merger with the Albany College of Pharmacy, and Glenmont students areeager to fill those workforce gaps. Great opportunity, Glenmont!

From the President, SusanSez

Adams' New England Dream Team wasupforits second adventureof the month, this time attending the Boston Region Maritime Industry Conference. Grafton CDNicole,Trombly,ShriverCD Stephanie Ashworth, New Hampshire CD Jessica King and Exeter CD Shakisha Holley, accompanied by Adams Associate VP Ross Peterson, met with top workforce and community college officials from New England, along with maritime industry employers. Ms. Holley and Exeter graduate Andreaz Morales even participated in a presentation from General Dynamics Electric Boat on tying the workforce to maritime employer needs. Job Corps leaders Erin McGee, Aneta Hrebenko and Thony Martino also emphasized Job Corps efforts to work with maritime employers. Among the other highlights of the event was the tour the CDs took on a maritime training ship.